The fourth edition of IKCC at COEP Boat Club

The COEP Boat Club hosted the 4th Interclub Kayaking and Canoeing Championship (IKCC) from 19th – 21st June 2015 at the college boat club. In its fourth edition, the IKCC introduced canoe races for the first time this year. The event saw participation from over 12 boat clubs ranging from Nashik, Nagar, Kolhapur, Saikheda, Pimpalgaon, Jalna, Nanded, Sangli, Pimpri Chinchwad to our very own COEP. The different events were K1, K2, K4 (both men and women) and C1, C2, C4 for men only. Each event had two categories – 200m and 500m.

The first day of the championship consisted of the heats for kayaking events and the canoe races. It ended with the kayak relay race, in which the COEP team won the Gold medal. The second day saw things heat up and some close races needed a photo finish. In the evening, Sawarn Singh - the lone rower who represented India at the 2012 London Olympics – interacted with the participants and provided them with some valuable insight into the world of competitive rowing and fitness. The third day's races were delayed as rain played spoilsport.

Based on the total tally of medals to each club, an overall champion was declared. The winner was the Kolhapur Boat Club while our COEP Boat Club was the runner-up, missing the top spot by just a whisker. COEP's Amod Chavan and Panjab Kawade were jointly declared the Best Male Kayakers. Kolhapur's Shravani Halijwale was declared the Best Female Kayaker and Pimpalgaon's Sagar Gadhave was awarded the Best Male Canoeer award. All in all, the 4th IKCC hosted by COEP was a grand success and it hopes to return next year, bigger and better than this time!
